North Spencer County School Corporation
Seeks community support to host John Rosemond,
Nationally Syndicated Columnist

The North Spencer County School Corporation and their committee of partners are proud to announce the 2010 seminars by nationally syndicated columnist, best-selling author and recognized parenting expert John Rosemond. Various seminars will be conducted on August 4, 2010 to coincide with the Kids First Festival hosted at Heritage Hills High School.

Support opportunities available include: cash sponsorship in any denomination, food donations and volunteer opportunities the day of.

John Rosemond has worked with families, children, and parents since 1971 in the field of family psychology. In 1971, John earned his masters in psychology from Western Illinois University and was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa Honor Society. From 1971-1979, he worked as a psychologist in Illinois and North Carolina and directed several mental health programs for children. From 1980-1990, John was in full-time practice as a family psychologist in Gastonia, North Carolina.

Presently, his time is devoted to speaking and writing. John is syndicated in approximately 225 newspapers, including the Atlanta Journal Constitution. He has written twelve best-selling books, nine of which are published in 16 different countries. Some of his titles include: A Family of Value, Because I Said So!, Ending the Homework Hassle, John Rosemond's NEW Parent Power!, John Rosemond's New Six Point Plan, Making the "Terrible" Two's Terrific!, Teen-Proofing, Parenting By The Book, and The Diseasing of America's Children. For more information on John, go to his website at www.rosemond.com.

Several of the scheduled events will be open to the public and seating is limited, but detailed information will be available in July. Parents, grandparents, parents-to-be, youth development workers and congregation members are encouraged to attend.
